School of Nursing

The School of Nursing of The University of Hong Kong was established in 1995 and has rapidly gained a reputation for excellence in teaching, research and clinical practice. Our School has a strong mission to educate nursing leaders for the community, and it is our goal to provide a diversified and holistic nursing education that will prepare our graduates to become leaders of the nursing profession. One of the strengths of the School is its innovative, interdisciplinary and internationalized nursing curricula responding to the health needs of the population locally and globally. We also have close links with a range of health care settings in Hong Kong, which facilitate the provision of cutting-edge learning environments for our students. The School has developed a strong network with nursing schools in renowned universities internationally, which enables student and academic exchanges as well as research collaboration.

Currently, the School offers Bachelor of Nursing, Master of Nursing, Doctor of Nursing as well as research-based Master of Philosophy and Doctor of Philosophy programmes. These programmes contribute to the nursing profession by educating and preparing nursing practitioners, researchers, educators and leaders.

Master of Nursing

The Master of Nursing (MNurs) Programme provides opportunities for nurse graduates to prepare for advanced practice nursing in keeping with the rapid changes in health care in Hong Kong.
