Simulation-based education: A new paradigm and beyond

June 3 & June 4, 2021
(Thursday & Friday)

PROGRAMME OVERVIEW

The Healthcare Education and Simulation Workshop 2021 aims to provide vital knowledge and skills in the latest healthcare and simulation-based learning and education. Participants will learn about the latest trends of simulation-based learning and healthcare education, as well as advance their skills in simulation-based teaching.

"Simulation-based education: A new paradigm and beyond" is the theme of this year's workshop. The use of simulation as a training strategy not only can help to prevent errors in clinical settings, contribute to patient safety and optimise outcomes of care, it can also promote the nursing students' personal development. This workshop is suitable for healthcare professionals who are interested in simulation-based healthcare education and those who would like to update their simulation-based healthcare education knowledge and skills.
